

Pray for the soul of
OCTAVIE JEANQUART,

wife of

ALEXIS CHARLES,

born at St. Denis, province of Namur, Belgium, Nov. 5, 1854, and died at Union, Door Co., Wis., March 23, 1919, fortified with the last Sacraments.

Blessed are the dead who died in the Lord, from henceforth now saith the Spirit, they may rest from their labors, their works follow them.

As she had learned from her early youth to fear God and to abstain from all evil, she persevered afterwards in a good and edifying life.

Piety is profitable unto all things having the promise of the life that now is and of that which is to come.

She died as the just die, leaving to all the example of a Christian life and to her children a name without blemish.

Good-bye, dear husband, children and grandchildren, and all ye who loved me, may we see one another again in Heaven at the feet of Jesus and Mary, where I hope to join my beloved children who went before me. Love one another in the fear of the Lord, keep His commandments and remember me always in charity and prayer.

Sweet Hearts of Jesus and Mary, be my refuge.
(300 days indul.)

Our Father.

Hail Mary.
